In October 2015, Fr Philip Marshall, Vicar General of the Adelaide Catholic Archdiocese, updated the people of the Archdiocese about the commitment to renewal that the church, indeed the 'pilgrim people', have been called to participate in. Talking about the church as a pilgrim people on the move encountering new circumstances and new territory all the time, moving through history, never still and always changing, he asserted that 'the church has always recognised that it's always in need of reform and renewal just as we are ourselves'. He added that this form of renewal however is 'not a project we've decide to take on, it's the nature of the church to always be renewing itself, meeting new circumstances but being faithful to the deep abiding truths that we've been handed on – it's keeping those things in balance that's at the heart of renewal'.

The diocesan Renewal Taskforce subsequently identified 8 Key Characteristics of a renewed parish, characteristics that could be agreed upon as marks of renewal. For example, people experience their local church as a place of welcome, young families and young children have a central place, Eucharist is celebrated beautifully and well, people are led into the mystery of prayer, scripture and ministry. Acknowledging that there won't be a one size fits all, there is nevertheless a commitment to these fundamental things. This ongoing renewal is part of our individual and collective discipleship – it is grounded in a personal relationship with Jesus.

Three years on, here within our local context of Tranmere, a group of people were asked to come together toward the end of 2017 and begin the conversation of renewal. This group have met on several occasions during this time in a spirit of prayer, listening, dialogue, discernment and faithfulness. The group acknowledged that currently there are many ways that the parish of Tranmere is attentive to renewal, with visible signs that give evidence to it being a community of welcome, where families and children are central, our Liturgies are wonderfully celebrated and the faithful are led into prayer and ministry. We are reminded however, that we are in constant state of movement and therefore need to ensure that we do not become complacent and indeed keep our ears to the ground and our eyes continually reading the signs of the times.

Finding ourselves at this point in our renewal journey and in the not too distant future the beginning of the Advent season, we are wishing to invite parishioners to consider and voice where God is evident in daily life and how it is that the God is calling you to be church. We would like to capture people's reflection to these questions, with concise responses videoed and/or written and then shared through different mediums to the parish community. This will also be a stimulus for us as we each consider the question that is prompted by the Plenary Council 2020 where we are asked 'What do you think God is asking of us in Australia at this time?'

We would very much like to capture the reflections from a wide range of people so please come forward and speak with Antonetta, Melinda, Paul & Joseph at the conclusion of Mass. You may also receive a tap on the shoulder and a personal invitation to participate. We are grateful to Mikayla Bartley and Adam Hicks for assisting us with the process of videoing, editing and overall production of the responses.
